New Unified
User Interface

What is it?

The Equus unified UI is an update to the user interface that provides a more modern look, with some navigation improvements as well.

When? 19.5 release on September 26th, 2019

Scope: MEE, Landing Experience, PinPoint, Questionnaires, Tax Organizer

Summary of Updates:

- Style updates are in line with other modern applications, with brighter colors, larger fonts, white space and background shadows behind objects such as forms and buttons

- Navigation updates – all applications will now contain a left navigation bar

- Field labels will now appear above a field, instead of to the left

Last Name

Last Name

- A small logo and full logo will be required

    - The small logo shows whenever the left menu is collapsed and should be a 50 x 50px image

        Example:

- The full logo displays anytime the left navigation is expanded and should be 224 x 50px

    Example: EQUUS SOFTWARE

- An accent color will appear throughout applications as a small touch of color that can be themed to match a client's primary color

- Background images can be added to the full background and navigation bar

- Support for a light and dark theme

What is the impact?

Internal AssignmentPro Users: None. The current screens will remain as they are today and updates to internal screens will be evaluated in future.
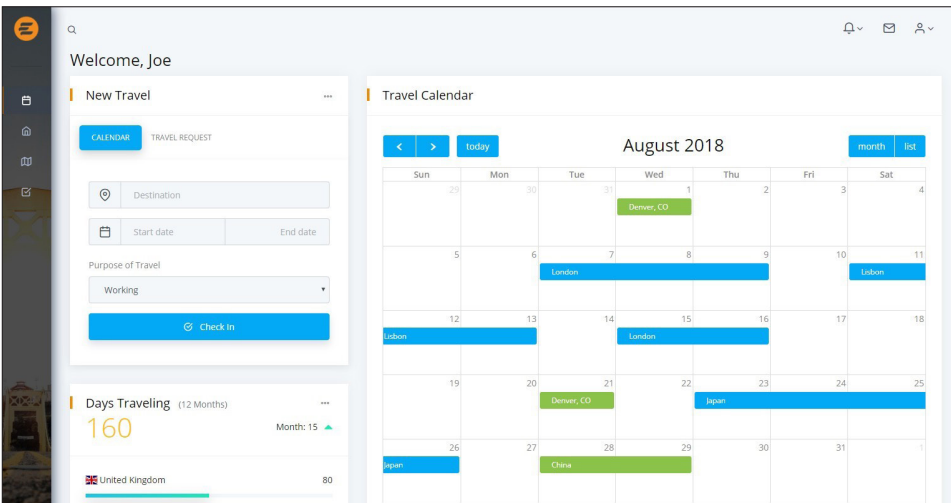

MEE (Employee Portal): The biggest change to the MEE is the introduction of a left navigation bar. This will include the items shown in the navigation bars on the home screen and the additional menu items that used to appear in the top right pull down. Profile, sign out and change password will remain in the top right navigation.

General styles will also change and client specific manuals will likely need to be updated.

PinPoint, Questionnaires, and the Tax Organizer
These applications will receive an update to the overall appearance but will not have any major navigation changes in the first launch.

Screen Sections and Field Layout
Currently when a screen has multiple sections, each of the sections appears as a separate box. Additionally all fields appear in a single column format. In the new update, each section will appear on the same background instead of separate boxes and fields will appear in a two column layout.
